

The best business phone system for retail.

Whether you're selling goods from computers to clothing, or services from salons to repairs, you may be losing business due to your existing phone system. With Ooma Office, customers will never hear a busy signal and you can easily manage incoming calls.

Ooma Office, the #1 rated business phone service, provides the best value for retail stores.

✓ 24 x 7 service to provide a smooth shopping experience during and after hours.

Whether you are busy helping customers in the store or it's after hours, callers are greeted with Ooma's virtual receptionist to answer questions and direct them to the right store or department. Build menu options such as: Press 1 for directions, Press 2 for store hours, and include promotional on-hold messages when calls are being transferred.

✓ Mobile communications in or out of the store.

With Ooma's mobile app, employees and/or customers can reach you anywhere. You can enable extension dialing to the mobile app, call forwarding, or include your extension as part of a ring group.

✓ Notify the right store employees simultaneously.

With Ooma Office, you can create ring groups that ring multiple extensions at once. For example, a customer while hearing menu options in the virtual receptionist, can be routed to the service department where it rings appropriate employees to serve the customer.

✓ Free toll-free and local numbers:

Eliminate long distance charges on calls between stores. Locations outside the U.S. enjoy free unlimited calling to Mexico, Canada and Puerto Rico, with low international calling rates to other countries. Average savings: over $2,000 per year.

Why retailer Chapel Hats loves Ooma.

“ Inexpensive to get; even cheaper to run. I was blown away by the quality. It gives us that “big company” impression for a very small price. I can go anywhere and never miss a call – and our long distance charges between US and Canadian stores are now non-existent. No contracts and big savings. ”

– John McKernan

Serve customers quickly and easily so you never miss an order.

When a customer or supplier calls to check to see if you have a certain product available, a call can easily be parked on hold for a moment while checking with the stock room, or even another store location. Customers are served quickly without long hold times or lost business.

With Ooma Office, you get all the business phone features that are perfect for meeting the daily balancing act of managing your customers and your retail organization. You always get clear, flexible, reliable communications that save money at one or multiple offices.

Ooma Office offers three service plans to meet a variety of business needs. Pricing is all-inclusive with no surprise add-ons or setup fees.
